

O-K Review Submittal Check-List

It is important for SD CFAR to know the outcome of investigator's participation in the O-K Review process. It is a key indicator used to document value-added as well as to justify resources allocated to the O-K Review. If you have participated in the O-K Review in the past, you must have provided NIH funding outcome information for prior applications to the Administrative Core (cfar@ucsd.edu) or on the cover sheet checkbox below to be eligible to participate.

Checklist for a full review:

K Applications:

- ☐ Candidate Background
- ☐ Career Goals and Objectives
- ☐ Aims
- ☐ Research Plan
- ☐ List of mentors
- ☐ Applicant Biosketch
- ☐ Mentor Biosketch
- ☐ Proposal has undergone at least one round of review and revision with mentor
- ☐ Proposal meets NIH formatting requirements and page limits

R Applications:

- ☐ Aims
- ☐ Research Strategy
- ☐ Candidate Biosketch
- ☐ Proposal has undergone at least one round of review and revision with co-investigators
- ☐ Proposal meets NIH formatting requirements and page limits

If you have checked off all of the above applicable elements, your application is eligible for O-K review. If any items are missing or incomplete, you will qualify for a limited review only.

If partial documents are submitted or the applicant is unable to attend the in-person review panel, there will be a limited review only.

Certifications

Applicant

I certify that I will be present for the in-person review panel. I understand that if I cannot be present, I will only receive a limited, or rapid, review.

I understand that SD CFAR needs to know the outcome of my participation in the O-K Review. It is a key indicator used to document value-added as well as to justify resources allocated to the O-K Review. Therefore, I certify that I will report NIH funding outcome information to the SD CFAR Administrative Core (cfar@ucsd.edu) in a timely manner. I understand that failure to report this outcome may prohibit me from participating in future O-K Reviews.
