

Resilience in HIV Research and Treatment: Progress and Possibilities

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

SUBMISSION DEADLINE: MONDAY, JULY 7, 2025

Eligibility Investigators engaged in HIV/AIDS-related clinical, behavioral, public health, or laboratory research are invited to submit abstracts to the 2025 SD CFAR Research Day. Submissions will be evaluated based on scientific merit and relevance to the event's research mission. Investigators working on projects supported by SD CFAR core services or funding mechanisms are welcome to apply. Abstracts based on in-progress research are also eligible. Individuals currently developing funded research projects may find this event to be a timely opportunity to share and refine their work.

Heading

- Title: Use a concise title that indicates the content of the abstract. Italicize specific names of microorganisms.
- Authors: Authors' names should be typed in upper- and lowercase letters (please do not use all capital letters). Use first name and last name. Indicate the presenting author and include an email address and business phone. There is a limit of 10 authors per abstract.
- Affiliations: List institution, city, and state for domestic authors. List institution, city, and country for international authors. Do not include department, division, laboratory, or acknowledgements.
- Funding Source: List funding source(s) and grant number(s). All grants funded by the San Diego Center for AIDS Research share the same number: P30 AI036214.

Content Abstract submissions are welcome on all aspects of HIV, including clinical, behavioral, public health, or laboratory research. Abstracts are limited to 2,500 characters, including spaces. A maximum of one table or one figure may be included. Please do not include literature references or copyright or trademark symbols.

Required format: Please bold the following four section headings within the text of your abstract

- Background: A concise statement of the issue under investigation or a hypothesis;
- Methods: The research methods used (including the statistical analyses employed);
- Results: Specific findings (final or in-progress); and
- Conclusions: A summary of findings that are supported by your results. Statistical analyses used to support the conclusions, where appropriate, should be included.

Restrictions Abstracts will not be accepted for work that has been published. We will consider abstracts for work that has been presented but not yet published. When submitting your abstract, please indicate in your email whether and where your research was previously presented.

Submissions Email completed abstracts in Word or PDF format to cfar@ucsd.edu by Thursday, July 7, 2025. Results will be announced by Friday, August 8, 2025.
